WELCOME MESSAGE FROM NASAP PRESIDENT

I am very excited to invite you to the 2018 North American Society of Adlerian Psychology (NASAP) Conference in Toronto, Canada! The theme for the conference is Community, Connections, and Social Interest in Challenging Times. This topic seems particularly relevant given the events occurring around our globe today. As Adlerians we are well aware that social interest is hardwired into the very essence of each of us. With the increasingly arduous political divide throughout the globe and constant news of terrorism and school shootings, it is time more than ever to bring our value of social interest and other relevant tenets of Adlerian Psychology to our daily lives on a one-on-one basis but also to society on a macro level.

This conference will provide fantastic opportunities for new Adlerians as well as seasoned Adlerians to share knowledge and ideas to create movement towards pathways for a more peaceful world through various methods of intervention. I look forward to connecting with many new and old friends and colleagues. Please consider joining us for four days of community, connections, and social interest!

Jon Sperry, Ph.D.
President

Transforming Life Narratives: Context, Connection, Genograms, Legacies and Having a Sense of Home

Monica McGoldrick, Ansbacher Keynote Speaker

This presentation will be about the key dimensions for assessing human problems and evolving healing solutions. Genograms are the core mapping tool of this work. A genogram is a map of who you belong to. This presentation will focus on viewing each person in the context of his or her cultural background, social class, gender and sexual orientation, family history, life cycle trajectory, and multiple identities in terms of interests, affiliations, and values.

Monica McGoldrick, MSW, PhD (h.c.), teacher, author and family therapist, is the Director of the Multicultural Family Institute and on the Clinical Faculty of the Psychiatry Department at the Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School in New Jersey. She has an international reputation as a trainer and author. Her books include Ethnicity and Family Therapy (3rd ed, 2005), The Expanding Family Life Cycle (5th ed, 2017), Genograms (3rd ed, 2008), Living Beyond Loss (2nd ed, 2004), Re-Visioning Family Therapy: Race, Culture and Gender in Clinical Practice (3rd ed, 2019), Women in Families (1991), and The Genogram Journey: Reconnecting with Your Family (2nd ed of You Can Go Home Again, 2011). Her newest book, The Genogram Casebook, was published by W.W. Norton in 2016. She is also the author of 5 teaching videos available through www.psychotherapy.net.

FRIDAY PLENARY • JUNE 8 • 9:00AM • 1.25 CE HOURS
Social Equality and the Great Law of Peace

Edward A. Connors, PhD, CPsych

Wabeenunbenasai Kabeetwutung • Wolf Clan • Registered Psychologist

Rudolf Dreikurs believed that the real challenge facing the human race is to establish equality at all levels of human activity and that this alone may be the determining factor of our continued existence. Several centuries before Dreikurs proposed this, the Iroquois Confederacy formed one of the longest lasting known experiences of peaceful relationships between five previous warring societies. These peaceful relations were based upon a code of ethics referred to as the Great Law of Peace. This code reinforced principles of equality at all levels of human activity. Today efforts to re-establish healthy peaceful relationships within Iroquois communities are attempting to reactivate this knowledge. This presentation will share how these efforts to rebuild healthy communities and relationships parallel insights that Dreikurs proposed in his application of Adlerian psychology.

Featured speaker Dr. Connors is a Psychologist registered in Ontario. He is of Mohawk and Irish ancestry and is a band member of Kahnawake Mohawk Territory. He has worked with First Nations communities across Canada since 1982 in both urban and rural centres. Dr. Connors served as a board member and vice president of the Canadian Association of Suicide Prevention between 1990-98. He has worked as Clinical Director of an infant mental health centre in Regina and a suicide prevention program for First Nations communities in Northwestern Ontario. While developing the latter, Dr. Connors apprenticed with Elders in traditional First Nations approaches to healing. His current practice incorporates traditional healing knowledge while also employing his training as a Psychologist. He and his wife Donna manage a health planning firm which provides health consultation and psychological services to First Nations communities throughout the Georgian Bay region. He also serves as an elder/advisor for Enaahtig Learning and Healing Lodge and the Native Mental Health Association of Canada. Dr. Connors is a committee member with the Mental Health Commission of Canada and a board member of the Mental Health Centre Penetanguishene, Ontario.

Poster Presentations 6:00P-7:00PM
Poster presentation time at our conferences are always stimulating and inspiring opportunities for one-on-one engagements with presenters, with ample time to ask questions and compare experiences.

Just as the conference is winding down, we circulate informally (perhaps with a glass of wine in hand) to hear from and see posters illustrating research of graduate students, as well as mini-presentations from colleagues sharing work that might not lend itself to a full session.

Student presenters get to have their work seen, and to sharpen how they present their ideas by engaging with seriously delighted veteran Adlerians.

Poster sessions are not to be missed: they form the capstone on a conference filled with the exchange of new ideas and the traditional; new ways of looking at time-tested methods; and explorations of applications of Adlerian Psychology into the 21st Century.

Dinner 7:00 -9:30PM
We’ll be enjoying dinner together and some concluding business and socializing as the conference ends. This dinner is included in your 2-day conference registration at no extra cost. Guests are welcome for a per-plate charge of $50. Sign up guest(s) when registering.
