

NASAP's DVD Home Study Course – 1.5 CEs
“Hundred Years: Adlerian Psychology is Stronger Than Ever”
With Eva Dreikurs Ferguson, Ph.D.
North American Society of Adlerian Psychology

Course Overview: Individual Psychology had its official birth in 1911, and in the last hundred years it has grown in influence. Increasingly, research in many areas has given support to the theory and methods of Adler and Dreikurs concerning goals, holism, Social Interest, family constellation, need to belong, and related concepts.

This course was presented as a 1.5-hour presentation in May 2011 at the Annual Conference of NASAP in Victoria, B.C.

Course Objectives: Participants will learn an overview of Adler's theory in its development and basic concepts. Participants will also learn unique ways in which the theory offers psychologists modern ideas.

Course Materials: You will receive the professionally recorded DVD from Kennedy Recordings along with a test that is to be taken and returned once you have completed listening to/viewing the DVD.

Course Activities:

This is basically a listening/viewing course. You have one and a half hours of recordings to listen to/view and you can review the material as often as you need to complete your exam. The exam is a multiple choice style exam, which covers the material in the recordings.

Course Fee: The fee for this course is $40 ($30 for NASAP members), which includes all course materials, scoring of your test, and a certificate of completion.

Course Enrollment: To enroll in the course, send the appropriate Course Fee by check to the address below. You will be sent the materials and the test. Complete the course directions and mail your test to:
